"The Bright Solitude of the Sun, the path to Healing" (In Spanish). Healing is to live the fullness, is to stop getting ill or suffer, is to find coherence between what you think, feel, say and do. Is living in your spirit in a body of flesh. This book is intended for anyone who wants to heal his soul, his psyche and body, but is also and above all adressed to healers, therapists or facilitators of health, because it reveals step by step items and ingredients needed to heal, mutate and evolve. Logical and intuitive at the same time, Marta Povo's speech leads us to understand the current psychosis or absurd division between ego and soul, between matter and spirit, to be responsible for the healing of memories and recorded codes beyond the mistakes of our ancestors; an exquisite work fruit of 25 years of work in healing.

"The forgotten Hemisphere, channeling, inspiration and communication" (In Spanish). Our mind has two different faculties of understanding, catchment, cognition and communication, two distinct but complementary hemispheres, rational and intuitive. Word, deduction and reflection are more linked to the rational mind factors, but creativity, inspiration, intuition, compassion, including the power to channel, are more linked to the creative and analogical mind, sometimes called the heart. This hemisphere forgotten is there, potentially vibrating and waiting to be used consistently and synchronously. Marta Povo, an expert from birth on these issues, urges us to know and educate our intuitive hemisphere, but above all insists on the importance of integrating reason with intuition, reflection with creativity, and tells us about knowing how to use our choice freedom and our spiritual autonomy, even before any channeled message and inspiration. This work includes psychographic messages inspired by El Morya and Mary Magdalene.

Work in which you learn to 'read the energy' of a space in a consistent manner, which analyzes and integrates the Feng Shui and Geobiology, disciplines closely related to psyche and soul development, which are viewed from an organic and psychic point of view. The book contemplates art, chromatic, iconographic and symbolic forms around us in terms of energy and therapeutically; analyzes the 'sick buildings' and technopathies self-generated by technological development itself.
